The perfect guide to discover the natural wonders of Madeira Island
Madeira Island, also known as the Pearl of the Atlantic, was discovered in 1419 by João Gonçalves Zarco and Tristão Vaz Teixeira. It is an autonomous region of Portugal and is located on the Atlantic Ocean about 1,000 km from Lisbon and is accessible by air or sea.

It is an island of volcanic origin, and its capital city is Funchal. Madeira has a mild climate throughout the year, with average temperatures of 16 °C in winter and 22 °C in summer.

This beautiful island is a prime tourist destination, presenting a varied and distinctive set of attractions ranging from the practice of hiking, canyoning, boat trips and other outdoor activities, to the typical festivities and events such as the Flower Festival, Christmas and New Year, Carnival and many others.

Levada do Caldeirão Verde (PR9)

A true fairy tale in a green paradise that starts in the Queimadas’ house. Until you reach the majestic waterfall, the is remarkably green. Along the way you have a magnificent view over the village of São Jorge and the great mountains.
The water is always present along the walk. You can see the water gushing from the walls, flowing on the levada and falling from the sky on raining days. It’s a fantastic trail and safe all year long.

You will find some tunnels along the way so do not forget your flashlight and protect your head.

Arriving at Caldeirão Verde, immerse yourself by the breathtaking view of the huge waterfall falling on the cold and crystalline lagoon. Make a picnic before you go, while enjoying the relaxing sound of water falling.

ARTICLES & SUGGESTIONS
Madeira Island is full of fascinating nature trails and choosing the TOP 10 is undoubtedly a real challenge.

As this choice is always a very personal and subjective opinion, in this article we share our TOP 10 hiking.

TOP 10: Best levada walks in Madeira

LEVADA DOS CEDROS (PR14)

A magical path in full harmony with nature, involved by a wide variety of endemic species of flora and fauna of the Archipelago. At the end of the levada, the waterfall and the lagoons make this place perfect to relax and enjoy the good energy of nature.

LEVADA DO REI (PR18)

This is one of those walks that fill our eyes and soul, engulfing us in the emerald green nature that, from time to time, opens up to offer breathtaking landscapes. At the end, we arrive at the magnificent Ribeiro Bonito, where waterfalls and lagoons make this a truly unique place.

VEREDA DO FANAL (PR13)

With a mix of landscapes, this walk is a true nature adventure. Along the way, we can delight with the magnificent panoramic views and enjoy nature in its purest state, feeling its freshness surrounding us, in an energizing walk that appeals all the senses.

LEVADA DA RIBEIRA DA JANELA

We have a special affection for this “levada”, although it is not a walk that we recommend frequently. It is about 30km, with 9 tunnels (one of them with almost 2 kilometers), but there is something special about overcoming this challenge.
VEREDA DA PONTA DE SÃO LOURENÇO (PR8)
Another classic of the Island of Madeira, this is the walk that takes us to the east of the Island. The magnificent views illustrate the contrast between the rough sea of the north and the calm sea of the south of the Island.

LEVADA DOS TORNOS – BOAVENTURA
In one of the most hidden places of the Island of Madeira, begins this walk that leads us to the origin of Levada dos Tornos, which is one of the most important and extensive of the Island.

LAGOA DO VENTO
Beginning in the Rabaçal area, this walk traverses a small part of the Levada do Alecrim and leads us to discover Lagoa do Vento, one of the most beautiful places of the island, with an imposing waterfall that falls from the top of the rock, forming an immense lagoon.

LEVADA DO ALECRIM
Beginning in the Rabaçal area, this is one of the most beautiful routes, full of endemic species of flora and fauna of Madeira. At the end of the route you will find the waterfall and lagoon of Dona Beja.

LEVADA DO CALDEIRÃO VERDE (PR9)
This is one of the best known treks, a classic made by tourists and residents. Starting at Casa das Queimadas in Santana, the walk continues towards the Caldeirão Verde where we come across an imposing waterfall that falls from the top of the “Caldeirão”, forming a simply magnificent lagoon.

LEVADA DO FURADO (PR10)
(Ribeiro Frio – Portela)
This trek starts at the Ribeiro Frio Forest Park, which is very popular and known for its trout farming. Along the way, we enjoy a nature full of life that guides us on a magical journey.
We are a team of Software Engineers at the University of Madeira and we LOVE hiking, especially on Madeira Island, Portugal. So we decided to combine our strengths to our favourite outdoor activity to create WALKME: where you can find a GUIDE with all the information you need to discover the natural wonders of the Pearl of the Atlantic!
